OzPak digitises packaging operations to increase efficiency and productivity

Adelaide, 30th November 2017: OzPak has partnered with Ailytic and Worximity to manage and improve operational performance at its packaging facility in the Victoria, Australia. OzPak has implemented the Worximity Smart Factory suite comprising TileConnect sensors and TileBoard software on two wine bottling lines, giving real-time monitoring and control of metrics such as Availability, Performance, Downtime and Efficiency to assist management in driving efficiency and productivity gains.

Andrew Macpherson, CEO for OzPak said, "OzPak is a key partner to the Australian and Global Wine Industry, and as part of our strategy, we continue to strive for ways to improve customer service and increase efficiency in our operations. The solution deployed by Ailytic immediately increased our understanding of line performance, stoppages, crew and shift performance and equipment characteristics. After just a few weeks we are using the insights to change the way we operate for the better."

"Ailytic focusses on delivering rapid insights and we strongly believe there is a lot of opportunity to optimise existing facilities" said James Balzary, CEO of Ailytic who delivers the Worximity capability in the Asia-Pacific region. "The installation at OzPak was completed in a number of hours including sensors, software, and mobile devices. Andrew and the OzPak team have a compelling vision about how to improve the wine packaging industry and we are pleased to partner with them on that journey, starting with sensors then looking at more advanced scheduling and optimisation solutions".

Yannick Desmarais, CEO of Worximity says: "The global wine packaging industry is a rapidly growing market for our Industry 4.0 technologies and we are focussed on delivering continued innovation that assists these companies package product more effectively and efficiently. Welcome aboard OzPak!"

"Worximity and Ailytic have strongly-aligned visions of enabling machine connectivity and deploying real-time analytics then adding optimisation" says Angelica Potes, Head of Worximity's Global Channel Partners Program. "Ailytic is an exceptional partner, impressively expanding our reach to the Asia Pacific region and providing pro-active turn-key services to our clients."
